

Time utilisation in R&D

Prof Rick Mitchell
rfm26@cam.ac.uk

Dr Val Lynch
valerie.lynch@ andtr.com

- This project originated with the hypothesis that overloading in R&D activities not only causes delays but also reduces efficiency.
- On investigation many R&D people said they had far worse things to point out that wasted their time. So we decided to investigate that.
- STIM partners suggested that a simple questionnaire might suffice provided it was administered by a third party.
- A questionnaire has been prepared and website set up.....